* Students who have not attained the requisite level of competence in the Chinese language to take “CART9001. Practical Chinese for Arts Students (6 credits)” are exempted from the requirement of completing a Chinese language enhancement course.

- ⁱ The Faculty may grant course exemption from some major course(s) to eligible entrants upon admission on a case-by-case basis, if they have already studied equivalent or comparable courses at Sciences Po in Years 1 and 2. However, students must make up the exempted credits with other course(s) of the relevant major of the same value at HKU. For instance, if a student is exempted from 6 credits of one History pre-requisite course, he/she is required to make up those 6 credits with another 6-credit History course. In other words, the total number of major credits cannot be reduced, and the total number of credits required for graduation at HKU remains 150 credits, regardless of whether any course exemption is granted or not.
 - ⁱⁱ For prospective students who wish to major in English Studies or Language and Communication, there are two pre-requisite requirements as follows:

 - (a) To have achieved an outstanding grade in IELTS, TOEFL or another recognized English proficiency test; and
 - (b) To have completed at Sciences Po one or more foundation courses (equivalent of 6-credit HKU courses) in English literary studies and/or English linguistics/language studies.
 - ⁱⁱⁱ Students who are native speakers of the French language are not eligible to major in the French programme. Second language speakers of the French language may be allowed to major in the French programme, which will be considered by the Faculty on a case-by-case basis.
 - ^{iv} Chinese language proficiency and placement test will be required.
